A few months passed and a little boy came upon the scene. Then it was that the mother determined to go to England and demand and receive reparation for the terrible wrong which had been done her. She sailed for England, unknown to her family, and placed the matter in the hands of a firm of solic tors, who shortly succeeded in effecting a settlement, whereby the sum of $10,000 was to be paid yearly to the lady for her support, and upon the majority of the child the further sum of $25,000 was to be set aside for his sole benefit and use. GARRETTS GIVE UP CONTROL

And It Passes Into Possession of the Corbin-Sully Syndicate—An Unusual Trunk-Line Consolidation.

New York, March 9.-The Times says: "The York. Negotiations with President Robert Garrett have been in progress for some time. Ye-ter-day and late into last night there were important meetings relative to the transaction; to-day Mr. Sully will be able to show in Wall street the

the greatest, and bids fair to be the most influential, railway deal that has taken place in this country for many years. It throws other affairs of the sort far into the shade. "The possibilities of this new control are beyond estimation. By the acquirement of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad—the one railway of outh and far into the west. It includes the Censouth and far into the west. It includes the Celtral railroad of New Jersey, the Philadelphia & Reading system, the Richmond Terminal and Richmond & Danville properties, the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia lines, the Central Railroad of Georgia and now, last of all, the Bal-Aminond of Georgia and now, last of all, the Bal-timore & Ohio. And of all these properties there there is to be made one great trunk line with 16,000 miles of track.

"There will be unmeasured wondement in railroad and financial circles generally when it comes to be known that the Garretts have really given up their control of the Baltimore & Dhio system. It has been a family possession; it has been a family pride. The possession; it has been a family pride. The possession was profitable; the pride was well based. But the in-dications at this time are that Robert Garrett is not to sever his connections with the company. It is considered probable that Mr. Garrett will even continue in the presidency. The primary idea of his father may be much forwarded by this new deal; now, indeed, does the Baltimore & Ohio company become a part-and a most im portant part-of just such a trunk line as John W. Garrett planned and wished for.

"By the transfer of the Baltimore & Ohlo control to Mr. Sully, and the syndicate that is associated with him, the Baltimore & Ohlo practically sees its lines lengthened over 7,000 miles in the north and 9,000 miles in the south. And the telegraph war—this wonde ful coup places in Mr. Sully's hands the power to settle that, too."

Baltimore Dissatisfied. BALTIMORE, March 9 .- Mr. Robert Garrett, regard to the reported arrangement for a transfer of a control of that road. The New York Times's statement, which appears to be authentic, has created a sensation here. The city, as a corporation, is largely interested in the Baltimore & Ohio, and there are private interests which are opposed to having the control of the road go out of Baltimore hands. The B. & O. road has been looked upon as a Baltimore enter prise, and while Mr. Garrett has preserved a relicence as to everything that has been said, there are many who fear that there is truth in the statement published in the Times. There is a conviction here that if the road shall pass into other hands the extress and telegraph system will go with it. The matter is discussed on exchanges and the street corners, and while some approve, many condemn the action.

Mr. Garrett has been seen ince lo'clock today, and the statement in the New York Times was read to him. He still persisted he has nothing to say about the rumored deal. It is stated, however, by one to whom Mr. Garrett talked, that he used the expression, "We age in New York." The excitement increases here because of the refusal of Mr. Garrett to make any communication in regard to the matter. The most careful inculty

NEW YORK, March 9 .- Mr. Alfred Sully was applied to by a reporter of the Evening Post to-day for some statement in regard to the circum-stantial reports that a syndicate represented by him has virtually concluded negotiations with him has virtually concluded negotiations with President Robert Garrett, of the Baltimore & Ohio, for the purchase of a controlling interest in that road and its dependencies. Mr. Sully said that he preferred to say nothing until he could state something definite, and that he was not in a position to do so. When the reporter remarked that he supposed the fact of the purchase was not now denied, Mr. Sully admitted that "this was pretty well understood," but said he was not prepared to announce the names of the parties concerned or the terms of the greenent.

It was reported in the street to-day that the price paid by the syndicate for the Baltimore & Ohio stock was $225, but a well-informed and prominent banker said that he had good reasons to believe that it was not much over $200. A leading bank president in commenting on the prominent banker said that he had good reasons to believe that it was not much over $200. A leading bank president, in commenting on the importance of the reported sale, said that the realizoads represented in the purchasing combination, or in harmony with it, would have control of all the anthractic coal territory in the country.

Mr. Alfred Sully is understood to represent the interests of Mr. Austin Corbin. The Reading, the Pennsylvania, the Jersey Central, and the New York Central are all understood to be parties to the great "deal," A prominent broker remarked to-day that the new combination would represent the New York Central. Eric, Fennsylvania, Central and the Reading and Jersey Central roads, and that these would command all the business coming into New York. In connection with the Richmond Terminal, East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia roads, the new system would have control of nearly all the sea coast lines from New York to Florida. In connection, too, with the Indiana, Bloomington & Western road, and a subsequent absorption by that road of the Ohio Southern (or the making of amicable relations with that line), the combination would control all the bituminous coal territory, except that covered by the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg. It is understood that negotiations of some kind are on foot for the control of he latter road, also.

tions of some kind are on foot for the control of the latter road, also.

It is supposed that capitalists interested in the Adams Express company are among the backers of the Sully party, with a view to acquiring control of the Baltimore & Ohio express business, as they have acquired that on the keading. As to the Baltimore & Ohio telegraph line, the syndicate will be in a position to make terms with the Western Union company, if they find this to their interest.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Colonel Hain, general manager of the elevated road, makes the following statement concerning the accident yesterday:
"The train was heavily loaded. On them were several hundred passengors, mainly laboring men on their way to work. Owing to the delay, a number of these insisted upon leaving the cars and taking the trackway to reach the station.
In this way they were imitated by nearly all the passengers, and in a few moments they were thronged on the narrow trackway. While this rush was going on the track was cleared south of the station and the first train started. On observing this, one of the men on the track made a dash for the rear car and succeeded in climb ing on the rear step. This action placed him in a pesition where a portion of his body extended over the trackway, and as the train proceeded he was brought violently into contact with the passengers on the roadway. The weight of his body swept ten of the passengers into the street, with the result that three were killed and eight seriously injured."

A fourth victim of the New York Elevated railroad accident died in the hospital. His name is unknown. William Doyle, aged eighteen, was

The Wheat Speculation.

The Wheat Speculation.

Chicago, March 9, 9:35 a. m.—The nervous condition of the wheat market is well illustrated by the fact that May wheat, which closed at 84% yesterday, was selling on the curb this morning at 86%. The first official sales on 'change, however, were made at 85¢, and the market at once dropped off to 81% but within three minutes had advanced to 85¢. The interest in all the speculative pits is subordinate to that in wheat, and the excitement and activity in that cereal exceed that known in years. The dealings are on a tremendons scale, operators being supplied with buying and selling orders in quantities such as to make them difficult to fill. At 9:35 the price for May had receded to 85%.

Shortly after the opening this morning a big speculative interest was developed in corn, and a sharp advance in values followed. The price for May opened 3¢ higher, at 40%, dropped off to 40% but the execution of large buying order sent the price up to 41% c, and the market now rests at 41% c.

May lard has advanced to $7.95. May oats 29% c. May pork sold at $30.50.

The defense charged conspiracy on the part of his enemies to ruin him. The trial came up at Monticello, occupied an entire week, and created more interest than any trial for several years. The jury stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction. The case will probably be noile prossed.

Charles H. Hall, of Holy Trin ity church, who will officiate at the house, where the first services will take place on Thursday morning, at 9:30 o'clock. At 10:30 o'clock the remains will be escorted to the church by the Thirteenth regiment, of which Mr. Beecher was chaplain. Opp followed, but not quick enough, for Blackburn had escaped to Kentucky. Mrs. Opp has been shipped to her parents in Lafayette.

The large new barn of Allen Goss, a prominent farmer of Carr township, six miles west of Brownstown, took fire about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and was burned to the ground with all its contents. Eleven fine farm horses were in the stable and perished by the fire, the flames having spread so rapidly as to baffle all efforts to remove the animals from the building. The origin of the fire is unknown, though it is attributed to some accidental cause. Mr. Goss was at Cincinnati when the fire occurred. Loss about $3,000. The property was partially insured. cemetery, where they will be placed in a receiving vault to await the final disposition, which mil be decided later. It has not yet been decided whether the remains will be removed on Friday night or Saturday morning. The funeral services are to take place at 10:30 Thursday morning at the church, Rev. Mr. Hall officiating. There will be no pall-bearers. There will be no black drapery in the church or house, nor will the family wear mourning. Many times Mr Beecher has said in his sermons: "Strew flowers on my grave, but let no heathenish practice prevail of drawing in bleek. draping in black as a token of sorrow when a man has passed through death to eternal life."
On Friday the church will be thrown open to the public. This course has been rendered necessary in consequence of the extent of the circle of friends and admirers of the great divine. The cofin will be a very p ain one and will be covered with best broadcloth, with plain silver mountings. There is to be no ornamentation except a plain silk fringe. It will rest in the church on a platform raised six inches from the floor of the church. The feet will rest toward the cast, so that the people passing up the east asise and in front of the pulpit will get a full view of the features as they pass along slowly beside the blor. They will turn to the right at the head of the cofin and then out into Orange or Cranberry streets. On Thursday none but those having tickets will be admitted to the church. The tickets will be given to pew holders and others entitled to them. Each pew holds five persons, and only four tickets will be given to each pew-holder, the other ticket being reserved for visiting members of G. A. The Sunday-school children of the Home, Bethel and Mayflower schools, all connected with Plymouth church, will attend the church in a body at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The body will lie in state at the church. Leading clergymen from all parts of the country will be present. It is the wish of the committee to have the remains lie in the church until all the citipresent. It is the wish of the committee to have the remains lie in the church until all the citizens of Brooklyn shall have viewed the body. The Logan memorial committee, in a letter of sympathy, expressed their desire to assist in the ceremonies, and have suggested holding a contemporary service at the Academy of Music while the services are in progress at Plymouth church. It was decided to adopt the suggestion. General McLeer, formerly postmaster in this city, said of Mr. Beecher: He was a warm friend of mine, and I am pained at the news of his death. Mr. Beecher was always fond of a good joke, and was himself a practical joker and humorist. Here is a letter I received from him while I was postmester, after I had notified him that a "dead-letter" of his was being held: on the arrival of the Prince of wates in Canada early in the sixties, while visiting Montreal, he met and became enamored of a young lady whose home was upon the classic side of Mount Royal. This young lady came of an old and honored family, the head of which had himself been sum of $25,000 was to be set aside for his sole benefit and use. A contract was drawn embodying the terms and properly signed and scaled. The provisions were taithfully kept. The young lady in question remained abroad, in Parts, and passed as the widowed daughter of her father, whose true name was given. After about two years sne married Napoleon Morin, a wealthy government contractor of France, and the child grew up in ignorance of his identity,

The last payment of $25,000 had not been paid, and the prince, it is said, refused to acknowledge any communication and the parter. London, March 9.—Rev. Dr. Jacob Parker, pastor of the City Temple, whose guest the Rev. Heury Ward Beecher was during his recent visit to London, publishes a tribute to Mr. Beecher's memory. He says he does not hesitate to pronounce Mr. Beecher the greatest preacher who ever lived, and continues: "We who have bowed with him in prayer know with what might of humility, pentience, faith and love he stormed the kingdom of heaven. His moral fearlessness was consistent throughout. It was in vain to threaten Mr. Beecher. Having made up threaten Mr. Beecher. Having made up his mind, no Luther was better, prepared to face loss, infamy or desertion. I never heard him say one unkind word of an enemy. When Mr. Beecher left my house, he put his arm around my neck, kissed me, and said: 'Good-bye, old fellow; I love you.' These were the last words I heard from Mr. Beecher's lips. My house is larger and brighter because Mr. Beecher tarried there. Mr. Beecher and his wife used to call themselves two old folks. Verly, they might have been young lovers, so devoted were they to each other. I wish to be at Mr. Beecher's grave in spirit to take one short look at the place where his body lies, and thereafter to look steadily upward to the heaven to which he againt his highness for the recovery of the sum of $25,000 and interest for some twenty odd years at 5 per cent. Owing to the family of the lady, her name is not made public, but the facts as narrated will be recognized as true by the fashionable world of Montreal, and in the event of a trial upon the suit entered, which is hardly likely, such a stir will be had in the social world of England as has not been produced in the past half century.

The writ is returnable early in May, and Mr. Alfred Faulkner, of Dublin, Ireland, is now in this country securing evidence, which is understood to be of the most incriminating kind, ook steadily upward to the heaven to which h office, in relation to the statement that the draughtsman (Terry) who has been dismissed from the Chatham navy yard, had revealed secrets of naval designs to the American legation. The controller said that these were merely newspaper assertions, and that as far as the stories connect anybody in the legation with the dock yard treachery, they were entirely false. All the admirally knew was that Terry had sold to private persons things which he had gained possession of the yeason of his position in the government employ. Mr. White, secretary of the American legation, has contimed and emphasized the denials that any British naval plans have been obtained by underhand methods.

The agent of the Associated Press in London has been authorized to deny that the American legation was in any way implicated in the Chatham navy-yard scandal. The first meeting of the Indiana State Temper-ance union—the new organization intended to unite all the friends of temperance—began a Meridian-street church this morning, with an attendance of fifty or more ladies and gentlemen who are interested in this reform. Dr. J. E. Gilbert presided and Rev. A. W. Lamport conducted the devotional exercises. Various committees were appointed—on nominations, resolutions employment of the mand will make reports. mittees were appointed—on nominations, resolutions, enrollment, etc.—and will make reports this afternoon. Dr. H. S. Herr, who was one of the prime movers in the enterprise, delivered a brief address, giving an account of its inception. He said that he, with others, recognizing the necessity of united action on the part of temperance people, met at Nobiesville on the 11th of last December and discussed the outlook. At a subsequent meeting on the 28th of that month a declaration of principles and a constitution were adopted and numerously signed, and circulars were issued calling for the present meeting to perfect the organization and determine upon a plan of work. They recognized the fact that the divided condition of the temperance people was the chief obstacle in the way of the progress of the reform, and this they desired to remove if possible. They did not propose to antagonize any of the existing temperance societies, all of which were doing a noble work, but they wanted to secure a co-operation among them, with a view of educating public sentiment on the subject, with a view of ultimately obtaining the total prohibition of the traffic, but in the meantime to secure the rigid enforcement of the restrictive laws.

The program for this afternoon, as announced, included an address on "The History of Temperance Reform," by Rev. T. A. Goodwin: "The Obstacles to the Temperance Reform," by Rev. T. A. Goodwin: "The Obstacles to the Temperance Reform," by C. S. Dobbins, of Shoals, and "The Watchword for the Hour," by Representative Reynolds, of Wayne county. Mr. Patton, of Sullivan, is announced for an address to-night, but he will probably not be here. Captain E. F. Ritter and others will speak, however. The union will continue in session throughout to-morrow. Boston, March 9.—William C, Hickman, originally of Philadelphia, but lately of Boston, has joined the American colony in Canada, after having, it is alleged, swindled a number of Boston capitalists out of between $50,000 and $50,000. Hickman claimed to have a formula for manufacturing an article that he called "sugarine" out of common starch. The sugarine was to take the place of ordinary sugar, to which it was equal in all respects. According to Hickman's story, the sugarine could be made for 1½cper pound and sold readily for 5½ cents. Several capitalists became interested and turnished considerable sums of money which, it is said, Hickman perverted to his own use. When he found he could no longer blindfold his dupes, he left the city for Montreal, where he now is, He makes no secret of his whereabouts. Hickman is said to be very well connected in Philadelphia.

The commissioners of the new insane hospitals held a meeting yesterday afternoon to consider the condition of affairs. As the construction of the hew hospitals will be completed in less than two weeks, the contractors have decided to continue weeks, the contractors have decided to continue work, taking chances on getting their pay, as the commissioners have decided not to issue any further vouchers until there is money in the treasury to pay them. They need $100,000 to furnish and equip the buildings and probably that much more to operate them during the current year, but as there is no provision for this money, the hospitals will probably be allowed to remain as they are until the next legislature meets.

remain as they are until the next legislature meets.

State Auditor Carr said this morning that he knew of two men who held vouchers against the state for $125,000, on account of these hospitals, for the payment of which there had been no provision. One of them is Contractor Campford, of Winchester, who has $75,000, and Contractor McCormack, of Columbus, who has $50,000. A number of other like obligations are in; the hands of banks and capitalists.

This led to fill-feeling, and on Mon day, when the men met, it is alleged that Mr. Ruth struck Stumpf with a hand-saw, cutting his arm. Not long afterward there was a second meeting, and it was at this time that a weight was thrown by Mr. Ruth, and Mr. Stumpf at tempted to use the revolver which he had loaded with the wrong cartridges.

The Dust Recognized as the Polien of the

Dr. S. E. Munford, of Princeton, Ind., has sen Dr. A. W. Brayton, of this city, samples of the "sulphur shower" which recently visited south-ern Indiana. Dr. Brayton says the stuff is pollen -the "curious compound pollen of the pine," —the "curious compound potien of the pine," to quote Professor Gray's description of it, given twenty years ago, and figured with other curicusly-shaped pollen grains in his text-book of botany. The shape is unmistakable—a boat-shaped base, surmounted at each end with a large, rounded knob.

In regard to the source, Dr. Brayton said the rollen may have come with the recent south.

In regard to the source, Dr. Brayton said the pollen may have come with the recent south winds from any of the pine regions of the southern states—very possibly from the great red cedar regions about Murfreesboro, Tenn. It is too early in the season for our northern pines and cedars to ripen and shed the pollen. The pollen dust of our common ornamental pines falls in showers, making the clothing yellow if one stands under a pine or juniper tree about decoration-day time. Such clouds of pollen have sometimes nearly darkened the day, and it is seriously proposed that the "dark day" of Massachusetts, when lights were brought for the use of the legislature (the basis of a poem by Whittier), was due to clouds of Canadian pine pollen dust.

This pine pollen floating up from the south, as volcanic dust floats hundreds of miles out to see, covering the decks of ships an inch in depth, has been precipitated with the rain—washed out of the atmosphere as it were, or being very hygroscopic, it has absorbed moisture as the air cooled, become heavier, and fallen to the earth. Dr. Brayton says the air is full of all kinds and sorts of spores—more abundant about cities and damp places, and in the lower levels of the atmosphere; rarer in cold and dry atmospheres and on mountain tops and out at sea. The different ferments that raise bread, change-sugar into alcohol, and alcohol into vinegar, as well as those which produce zymotic diseases and cause corruption in wounds, all float about in the air.

Quincy, Ill., for violation of a contract. In the complaint Rehm & Van Deisne say they made a contract with the company April 10, 1885, by which they were to be general agents of the company for five years in the territory lying east of the eastern lines of the states of Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas and Texase, extending through all the states lying east, northeast and southeast thereof, for a compensation of 20 per cent. of the premiums, and an additional sum of 10 per cent. of the net profits of the business done. The plaintiffs are required by the contract to bear all the expenses of their agency.

It is alleged the defendant has deprived them of the right of doing business in the state of New York and in all the old slave states, thereby largely lessening the value of the contract to them; that the company has, without cause, cancelled policies with the intention of forcing them to abandon their contract; that they have expended $2,000 in occupying the territory granted to them. A copy of the contract is filed with the complaint. The plaintiff demands $20,000 as compensation for the violation of the contract. They are represented by Messrs, Finch & Finch, atterneys. This suit will be of interest to insurance men as it will show the value of such a contract and test the reputed large earnings of agents doing brokerage business. The company is regularly admitted to do business in this state and shows itself to be in good financial condition.

THE BASE BALL DEAL

IT IS FINALLY COMPLETED.

Indianapolis Formally Admitted-Composition of the Local Team-Rejoicing Over the Result-Schedule of Games.

There is general rejoicing about the city over the certainty of having a league base ball club here, and, since this has been definitely decided, those interested in the project have received those interested in the project have received numerous assurances of support from heretofore unexpected sources. Mr. A. J. Treat says that this morning two well-known business men have voluntarily come to him and offered to subscribe for stock. "It is no longer a matter of sentiment, but a matter of business," he says. "This is a cash transaction and the first thing to do will be to collect the subscriptions of stock, and get all the additional subscriptions we can, so as to put the club on a sound financial basis." As soon as the city's representatives return from New York a meeting will be held (probably tomorrow night) to take active steps. The Seventhstreet grounds will be fitted up in fine style at once, and the players will be ordered to report here for practice as soon as possible. It is not yet known exactly who all of them are, but it is certain that the following are included: Catchers, Hackett, Geo. Myers and Graves; pitchers, Boyle, Kirby and Healty; Schromberg, first base; Bassett, second base; Denny, third base; Glassock, shortstop; Seery, left field; Cahill, right field; Me. Greachy, center field. The club was put under a piedge to hold Denny, Glassocok, Myers and Boyle for one year, so as to prevent their being sold as soon as the season is well under way.

The gentlemen who are getting up the club are very much interested in the action of the league with regard to the guarantee system, and ar very anxious for a return to the per centage system, by which the visiting club gets 30 per cent, of the receipts of each game. Under the guarantee system it will be difficult for the Indianapolik club to make both ends meet. Mr. Newberger who has virtually directed the deal, is entitled it credit for the shrewdness and business ability h has showed. A complete recovery followed the strict adherence to his directions, of absolute rost for the stomach as well as the entire body, and remedial means used to control the circulation.

In the discussion which followed, all agreed that in this case the treatment was all that was required. Some thought, however, that in most injuries of this nature the surgeon was not only justified, but it was his duty, to open the abdomen and treat the damage done to internal organs on the same principle as external injuries. Others thought that, while this was true theoretically, that practically the public had not yet been educated up to the point that would justify such means, except in rare cases. evolver, the ball entering the abd

WARDEN HOWARD is still very much at large. Poor old Indiana!

THE legislature refused to purge the insane hospital. We have an idea that the people will. The case is not forgotten nor relegated to neglect.

Some maladroit friends of Mr. Beecher are raking up some of the Beecher-Tilton literature, which propounds theories of Mr. Beecher's innocence. Mr. Beecher was satisfied with a disagreement of the jury, and his friends ought to be. Nothing could be less useful than any further mention of that enisode. One of the actors in it has been called to the final judgment bar, and the others in a little while will be.

THE meeting at the criminal court room will be open to the public and the public should manifest by its presence that it fully appreciates the weight of the purpose which inspires it, and the work of the committee which has thus far pushed forward with such pertinacity and zeal. No graver duty lies before this community than the prosecution rob this community of its sovereign power and who have soiled its good name in the eyes of the whole country. Nothing could add to the disgrace except indifference now ou the part of the people. Let there be unmistakable evidence to the contrary. Sacrifice a little bodily ease and selfish inclination for the good of a sentiment that will make this a city that people will be glad to

THE NEWS has noted several times, with increasing satisfaction, the increasing tendency in murders of women to the suicide of the murderers. Its effect was wholesome in every point of view-moral, social and economical. It was a warning of the strongest kind against that style of crime. It improved society and community by ridding them of an element of danger that no law could reach till the mischief was done, and could reach them only by the ineffective grip of a coroner's inquest. It saved money by making unnecssary a judicial investigation of the office. But as satisfactory as this result of recent criminal development is, we note with greater satiscommendable conservation of social interests in Akron, O., two or three days ago, when a disappointed suitor "slipped outside the door," says the Dispatch, "and shot himself through the head." The great success of the scheme for this year. If we and obvious improvement of this style of want to quit next year it will then be demonwork over that which delays the suicide till strated that it is choice not necessity, and murder has been committed, needs no comwe will not have the bad advertisement ment. As Webster said of Massachusetts, "there it stands, and speaks for itself."

OUR nervous American "hurry" entirely explains the horrible accident on the elevated railroad in New York. A little after 7 o'clock a blockade of trains occurs, and the impatient passengers with that characteristic "hurry," instead of waiting for an opening, leave the cars and start to walk a narrow plank laid on the cross-ties at the side, and this at a hight of thirty feet sheer above the rock-paved street below. With this plank packed with a single file of men, each treading on the other's heels, the trains start, and the jar and the swift movement turns somebody's head and he grasps the nearest man to steady himself, and so, like a row of bricks, they go tumbling to their death. It came, it seems to us clearly, from the nervous hurry which affects us as a national vice. It wasn't at the time of day when day laborers, who are "docked" by hard-hearted capital if they are a minute late, were on their way to work. Between 7 and 8 o'clock it was probably store clerks and that sort of workers, and while promptness for them is a desideratum, a blockade thirty feet in air would, it will strike most people, afford a good excuse. This same nervous hurry mars almost every theatrical performance in the land-men grabbing their hats and rushing for the door before the curtain falls, there to continue their way leisurely. If this horrible New York happening can be an object lesson against the evil development of our tendency to rush and ruin more things in our life than it helps, it will not have been in

REV. E. P. GOODWIN, who led the opposition in the Chicago ministers' meeting to the proposed message of condolence to Mr. Beecher's family, said he wished the matter had not been introduced, but as it was, he felt it his duty to speak against it. "Mr. Beecher and the majority of Congregational ters did not agree on certain questions, and the adoption of the resolutions would have placed them before the public as sympathizers with his views." The "odium theologicum" has held its place at the head of unreasoning and unsparing enmities ever since heathenism gave way to the infinite charity and patience of christianity. No hatred is so bitter as the hatred begotten of religious differences, and no differences are so nearly indistinguishable as the partition lines of sects. Common sense and common feeling can sympathize with the sorrow of a be-reaved family without sacrificing any con-viction to the expression of such sympathy, and without any fear that anybody else will suspect such a sacrifice. The "odium theologicum," alone of all the small motives of perverted nature, could have conceived such a fear or used it as an excuse for withholding a word of condolence from a stricken wife and children. Mr. Goodwin added that he "knew too much" to accept the resolutions. There is one thing he doesn't know. evidently, and that is the sense and temper of a gentleman. We have no doubt there were men of the same special species long ago, who would have opposed giving condolence to the Virgin Mother, after the eclipse on Calvary had passed away, for fear they might have been suspected by the gentlemen of broad phylacteries of sympathizing with sinners with no plylacteries at all, and who probably "cut" the acquaintance of Joseph, of Arimathea, for giving the corpse of Christ room in his garden tomb because they did not believe in the Sermon on the Mount.

Keep the Ball Rolling. We've got the ball club! The next thing is to see that the club does not get us. It is well known that the only thing that ever made it uncertain was that we would not be able to support it. The other day in urging liberal response to the subscriptions undertaken by a few of our plucky and en terprising business men we said:

It is of more business advantage than one might It is of more business advantage than one might think, perhaps, to have the town reported every morning in all the papers in the country, and to have the presence of the "indianapolis base ball club" advertised in the principal cities in the country. Upon this ground of business advantage alone we urge all that the city can do to get the ciub be done, and to this end hope there will be tiberal response on all sides.

We cannot too strongly urge this phase of the affair-and now is the time to urge it. Those who took the initiative have carried the first point, and mark you, in the few weeks that they have been at it Indianapolis has had more advertising then it has had in a year. For weeks the papers in the chief towns and cities have teemed with note and comment as to the condition of the "Maroons," and whether Indianapolis or Kansas City would take the prize; and it was repeatedly urged that Indianapolis's geographical position and case of access from all points were things that could not be equaled. We ask those business men who know what a good advertisement is if they don't realize the value of having all the newspapers in the country for weeks calling attention to the fine position and superior communications of Indianapoto-night by the committee of one hundred lis. Now for five or six days in the week during the coming season of six months Indianapolis will be mentioned in all the newspapers of the country with reference to our national game, and as the race for the championship becomes close it will be spoken of in store and street all over the country. If we do not understand the value and punishment of the thieves who tried to of such an advertisement we are undeserving. But we do, and now is the time to show it. Our last state might be worse than our first, if at the end of the season it should turn out that we hadn't public spirit enough to support a base ball club, and so have it taken away from us, and we be consigned by the opinion of the country to the limbo of sleepy "country" towns that "can't support nothin'." We easily can support it (and we are speaking now solely from a business standpoint for the city and not from a base-ball standpoint for the club) if our business men and citizens generally will buy season tickets. The cost will be within the reach of thousands of persons, and at least a thousand tickets should be disposed of. Let our bankers and merchants and professional men subscribe for these tickets, on the ground that it is a contribution to a big advertising fund for the they can without much difficulty find a small boy who will use them. But these tickets should be taken just as St. Paul business men donate money for their ice palace. faction a later development of the same tenthe game will bring visitors, but it will be as direct and more continuous, and different men in chorus. "O, you did. Sorry hence more valuable, as an advertising scheme, and as such we urge that season

A Cold Blooded Proposition. Dr. Allen, of the surgical institute, has reseived a very remarkable letter from a man n Laporte, this state, whose name is W. H. Demifor. He writes that he has a daughter ten years of age who is so crippled that she ten years of age who is so crippied that she has never been able to walk, but is "otherwise perfectly developed." With a cold-bloodedness that is as abhorrent as it is bold he says that she would be better dead than to be compelled to live always in her present condition, and then proceeds with a proposition to the institute doctors to send for her at their own expense, operate on her and if she diss muder the more her, and if she dies under the opera-tion he offers her body for their use in dissection as recompense for performed. Dr. Allen this morning told a News reporter that he had doubted at first that such a man lived there, and before giving publicity to the letter had written the postmaster at Laporte, who re-plied th t the man did live in the place amed in the letter, and was the father of

A BOUT seven years ago I had a humor break out upon my face; it started in a small blotch and looked like the sting of a bee, then it spread and looked like the sting of a bee, then it spread and looked like a ringworm, and became very paniful. I at once went to one of the best doctors in the city and he could do me no good. No less than twelve of the best doctors have had a trial at my face and all of them failed. I will not give you a list of their names, but will say that they were from Boston, New York and Maine, also from England, France and Canada, I have been a hotel cook and steward for years. In the summer I cook at watering places; that is why I have had an opportunity of being among good doctors. They could not care my face, and I had given up all hopes of ever being any better. Last June I went to Mooschead Lake, Mc., to cook for the season. My face was so bad I did not like to be seen. At the lake I met a gentleman from England. He told me to use your Cutteura Remedies and they would cure me at once. I did so. The result was in three weeks the sores on my face were healed up. I used it all the season. My face is all well and no scars to be seen. I have recommended it to a number, and in every case it has cured them. It would take a great deal of money to put me back where I was one year ago, providing I did not know what your Cutieura would do. I shall recommend it as long as I live, and shall ever remain.

Mrs. Bailey, of West Somerville, Mass., near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black crup-tion, and was treated by the best medical talent, who could only say that the disease was a species of and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of fiesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or of intment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf, and commended the sufferer to her all-wise Creator.

The began its use under protest, but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison, as the sores assumed a red and healthy color, as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs. Failey continued the S. S. until last February; every sore was healed; she discarded chair and crutches, and was, for the first time in twelve years, a well woman. Her husband, Mr. C. A. Bailey, is in business at 17½ Blackstone street, Boston, and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.

RAILBOADS—RIGHT TO CROSS ROAD OF GRAVEL ROAD COMPANY—DAMAGES. 11,616. Indianapolis and Cumberland gravel

11,616. Indianapolis and Cumberland gravel road company vs. Belt railway company. Marion C. C. Reversed. Zollars, J.

While the statute gives to railroad companies the right to cross public highways without compensation and without responsibility to the public, it also gives to the boards of commissioners of the several counttes authority to grant special privileges to gravel road companies in and to highway-, and thus change their character from that of public highways purely to ways in and to which the gravel road companies have private to which the gravel road companies have private property rights. Where a gravel road company has such rights in a road it is no longer a public highway within the meaning of the statute authorizing reilroad companies to lay their tracks across highways without compensation. And where it is shown in an action by a gravel road company against a railroad company that the latter has laid its track across the plaintiff's road without its consent and without proper proceedings to condemn and the payment or tender of damages, the plaintiff is entitled, at least, to nominal damages, and the jury should be so instructed by the court. to which the gravel road companies have private AILEOAD-NEGLIGENCE-FELLOW-SERVANTS-DE-

11.597. Stoughton J. Fletcher vs. Robert C.

McGill. Marion S. C. Athrmed. Mitchell, J.

November S, 1876, McGill was the owner of property, worth over seven thousand dollars. A judgment was on that day recovered acainst him by the Chamber of Commerce for S559, without relief. In January, 1880, the sheriff levied an alias execution upon McGill's property, and two lots that did not belong to him, and sold that belonging to McGill to the appellants, who subsequently received a sheriff's deed. Prior to the said the attorney of the Chamber of Commerce solicited appellants to bid on the property. They authorized him to bid in their behalf a sum somewhat in excess of $900, which he did, and the property was struck off for that amount. McGill had no actual notice of the saic until March, 1881, after the year for redemption had exp.red, and the shoriff's deed had been executed to appellants. Upon learning of the saic he offered to redeem. The appellants refused, saying they had tought the property on speculation. This suit to set aside the sheriff's sale was commenced in 1881. The sum for which the judgment upon which the sale was made was the balence die upon a note given by McGill for capital stock of Chember of Cammerce. The Chamber of Commerce withheld the certificate of stock as a security for the payment of the sum subscribed. After the sheriff's sale was suced. The certificate has not been returned or tendered. Held: That McGill is entitled to have the sheriff's sale and deed set a ridg without prejudice to the right of the Chamber of Commerce, and with the right to enforce the lien of the yludgment against the property. The stable in rear of 57 Sinker street was set on fire last evening by boys playing with matches and damaged $50. In the Cunningham will case the Jury found for Mrs. Cunningham, in that she was entitled to

for the roofing and galvanized iron work of the train sheds of the Union station.

The county commissioners have adopted a gray jeans suit for the use of work-house prisoners, and have accepted the bid of the Martha Washington co-operative company to make the same.

For the second time Anson W. Sherwood is a plaintiff in a divorce court, and he is now seeking a separation from Virginia Sherwood, whom he married in 1884, alleging evil associations.

In March, 1885, as alleged, Samuel Miller applied for divorce from Mrs. Kate Miller, and while the proceedings were pending, there was a reconciliation, and Mrs. Miller claims that she was told the suit had been dismissed. Afterward as alleged, a decree was entered during her absence at Louisville, and she has now brought suit in the superior court to set the same aside.

John M. Johnston, whose illness was commented upon yesterday, has resigned as peace justice, this township, and his son, John C. Johnston, has been appointed to succeed him. Mr. John E. Sullivan seems to have managed this matter very adroitly, for had it been known 'Squire Johnston contemplated resigning, there would have been a host of candidates for the vacancy.

Last evening, while a young lady was passing the corner of Marvland and Tennesses streets.

have been a host of candidates for the vacancy.

Last evening, while a young lady was passing the corner of Maryland and Tehnessee streets, she was seized by the arms and severely pinched by some unknown scamp, who immediately ran away. For several weeks the police of Cincinnati have been trying to run down a "pincher" who has been intesting the streets of that city, and there is a suspicion that the rascal has changed his operations to Indianapolis.

The river has risen a couple of feet or so since the last notice in The News, but for the better part of three days it has been pretty nearly at a stand. It is "flood high" and out over all the nearest bottoms, but a half-dozen feet below any danger line. It is notably free from drift this year—too little running to make it worth the wood-hunter's trouble—which indicates that it hasn't got into mischlevous work farther up yet. The ordinance introduced by Mr. Herig, of the twenty-fifth ward, to improve the sidewalks of West street from McCarty to Ray, is a good be-The ordinance introduced by Mr. Herig, of the twenty-fifth ward, to improve the sidewalks of West street, from McCarry to Ray, is a good beginning, or rather, continuation of the good beginning in the order to improve the Tennesseestreet walks from McCarry to Ray. It is a pity it had not been made a complete good work by an order to improve the walks of the intervening streets—South Missouri, from McCarty northward to Merrill and thence to South street, or to the Kentucky-avenue crossing. Here, in bad weather, are the worst walks on the south side—the worst in the city—repeatedly brought to the attention of the council by The News, with as little effect as if the street lay in a lunar town and the councilmen were all emigrant lunatics, who had left it men were all emigrant lunatics, who had left it for its good.

the committee representing the members of the Indianapolis press.

The members of the Indianapolis press extend their sympathy to the family of the late Joseph W. Bingham in their great bereavement, and take this occasion to give public expression of our high esteem of him who has so suddenly passed away, in order that those who were nearest and dearest to him may find in our avowal such consolation as it may afford. We knew him to be a comrade whose kindly disposition was unfailing, whose capability was unusual, and whose fidelity to the duties of his calling was exemplary. He was generous and without envy, and ready at all times to extend a helping hand to the unfortunate that came in his way. Recognizing in our friend these admirable qualities, we can do no less than testify to his worth and deplore his un timely death.

The Cigar Makers' Union.

The Cigar Makers' Union. Local members of the International Cigar Makers' union are much exercised over the effort to either expel them from the Knights of Labor or compel them to desert their own organization. A committee of their order waited upon Mr. Fowderly last week, and gave him reasons why the resolution of expulsion should not go into effect, and his decision is awaited with considerable anxiety. The union now say that this action is the result of bad feeling between Thomas B. McGuire, of New York, and President Strasser, of the Intermonal, and that the purpose of McGuire is to coash the union out of existence.

The Rookwood Pottery Display. The exhibition of Rookwood pottery under the auspices of the Art association began yesterday at the house of Dr. Hodges, 152 North Meridian street. The display will continue to-day and tomorrow, and 15 cents admission while charged. The pieces shown are many and various and are for sale. The tints and designs of Fookwood pottery at first seem strange and queer, but like all artistic work they grow in favor and become wonderfully beautiful. No lover of art in any of its phases should fail to see this display.

A New Literary Venture. A weekly literary, dramatic and society paper or magazine is soon to be started in this city, un-der the editorial control of Mrs. Margaret Holmes Bates, whose reputation as the author of "The Chamber Over the Gate" and other works, is sufficient to guerantee the success of the venture. It will have several new and novel features, and will endeaver to find a field of its own without coming in competition with other weekly publications. The name has not yet been amounted cations.
